A staggering selection from the German audiophile outfit Speakers Corner (www.speakerscorner.de) starts with Paul Desmond & Gerry Mulligan's 'Two Of A Mind' (1962) featuring wonderful, piano-free, interplay and common chord changes.

'The Sound Of Wilson Pickett' (1967) features a slew of singles from the great man. His finest album, watch out for the impressive 'Love Is A Beautiful Thing'.

Aretha Franklin's 'Live At Filmore West' (1971) is a sparkling performance, dramatic in tone and wholly satisfying with a brilliant backing. Even Ray Charles pops up!
